CLASSROOM NEWS

Thank you for taking the time to attend your scheduled conference! It was wonderful to get to share with you the things your child has been learning and get to know them a little more with what you shared with me about them.

December brings more learning, fun, and snow (hopefully). As a reminder, please make sure students are coming to school with appropriate outdoor clothes as well as a sweatshirt for the classroom when it gets cool inside.

We are continuing our work on our multiplication facts. We are finishing our strategies for 0-10 with our x7 and x6. Please use the math practice log to track your student's practicing at home.

In writing we are starting a research project on reindeer! There are so many things we will learn as we read about them. Students will learn about researching and taking notes.

Finally we will learn more about reading comprehension in reading groups and using our reading aloud, The Wild Robot.

REMINDERS

Keep supporting your student reading, math, and writing success by having them read, practice math facts, and practice spelling words each week.
